The 2024 season awoke at Dalla Valle in the third week of March and moved through bloom and set in a mood of cool composure, the vines unhurried and assured. As the months turned, warmth gathered slowly over the vineyard, coaxing the fruit toward ripeness and shaping the deep core of its tannins. The heat never turned dramatic or unkind; it simply arrived in measure, and with it came a flawless beginning to harvest in early September. The picking that followed was serene and uneventful, the fruit arriving at optimal ripeness and yield, as though the season had kept its promise.

Born of the property's younger vines, the 2024 Collina greets you with all the radiance and generosity that mark the wine at release. A blend of 66% Cabernet Sauvignon, 29% Cabernet Franc, and 5% Petit Verdot, it spent 21 months resting in barrel and amphora, emerging with its brightness intact. Red fruits unfurl first, laced with the savory, herbal whisper of Cabernet Franc. On the palate it is graceful and whole, lifted by lively acidity and wrapped in tannins so seamless they seem to dissolve. Cabernet Sauvignon draws a long, taut line through the finish, while Petit Verdot lingers at the center of the palate, lending quiet depth without ever weighing it down. Fresh, complete, and effortlessly charming, it is a wine to open now and savor.
